

True-Living: Perseverance is Key

“By perseverance the snail reach the Ark.” ~Charles Spurgeon

Can you imagine how long it took that little snail to reach the Ark? Especially when you consider it could have traveled half-way around the globe!

Don't you think if a snail can have that kind of perseverance, you are even MORE capable of attaining your goals and dreams?

It was a matter of life or death for the snail! Maybe it's high time to start thinking about your dreams as a matter of life or death.

When you stop and think about it they really are--either you LIVE life from your dreams or you allow them to DIE when you refuse to pursue them with all your might.

Sure we have setbacks and obstacles. Can't you imagine the snail had a few setbacks and obstacles to maneuver? What if the snail looked at the ocean or the mountain range and said, "Forget it! It's too hard. I just don't have what it takes. I'm only a snail. I'm too old, too young, not educated enough, I didn't come from money, no one ever gave me a break." There would be no snails in the world today! They would have died off with great, great, great, great grandpa's failure to persevere!

When you think in those terms of life or death matters, your dream life is pretty important to future generations.

What are you doing to persevere to make it to your dream life and really live this life with everything inside you? What are you doing that matters in this world? What are you sharing with the next generation to teach them ANYTHING is possible with perseverance and faith in their dream?

There's no time like the present to BEGIN again. Wipe the sweat from your brow; get up off the ground where you were knocked down and press ever onward!

"Whether you think you can, or you think you can't-- you're right." ~Henry Ford

It's ALL in our mindset.

GOOOOOOO Get'em!!!
